Course Identification

1. Credit hours: 4

2. Course type

a. University College Department Track Others

b. Required Elective

3. Level/year at which this course is offered: 5

4. Course general Description

The first part of this course is an introduction to the study of semantics on both word and sentence level. The second part gives insights into theories of language use, particularly the part of pragmatics dealing with how one communicates more than one literally says or writes.

5. Pre-requirements for this course (if any): 221Eng-3

6. Co- requirements for this course (if any): NA

7. Course Main Objective(s)

In this course, the students explore the nature and scope of semantics and pragmatics and their place within Linguistics. The course aims to develop in the students an understanding of the relationship between language and meaning on word, sentence, and utterance level, how grammar and syntax contribute to meaning, how words and utterances encode a variety of meanings, and how language users achieve their goals in their interaction with others.
