Community Partnership 2023-2024

Activities Implemented	Brief Description*
Principle of Digital Transformation	Hosted by Saudi Council of Engineers in Al-Ahsa Region Date:15/05/2024 Number of Participants: 41 By Dr. Ali Alqahtani
Introduction to the Scientific Specializations for Preparatory Year Students	The department and its faculty members and students participated in an introduction to the Computer Networks and Communications program.

*including timing of implementation, number of participants, and outcomes.

Comment on community partnership activities

About 50% of the department's faculty members have participated in community services this year. The beneficiaries of these services were from Najran University, the Najran region, and outside of the Najran region, and from all segments of society. The department is working on expanding community activities to get all faculty members involved.